The day sessions will be held at the W. O. T. U. hall in Liberty block and the night sessions at the First M. E. church. The convention will open Thursday afternoon and the entire time of this session will be devoted to the evangelistic work. The address will be as follows: "The Bible and Its Study," Rev. E. H. First M. E. Church.
Sunday morning the pastor of this church, Rev. T. A. Parker, preached on "The Business or Practical Side of the Methodist Missionary Society." He presented it in the form of a conversation between a pastor and a young man. The young man had never heard the missionary work of the Methodist Church presented from any standpoint, and became greatly interested in it. He finally tendered his pastor a silver dollar for minutes and decided to know how much of it would go direct to the purpose for which he gave it. Only about two per cent of every dollar given for missions is used for any other purpose. The various men who handle the vast amount of money spent for missions by the Methodist Church were mentioned by Rev. Parker. He further said that every member of the Methodist church is a member of the missionary society of that church. The sermon was so timely, interesting in nature, and while no public subscription was asked for, no time will be lost in giving individual members an opportunity to subscribe. At the close of the service Rev. Parker read the names of twenty-one persons received into the church—seven by letter and fourteen on probation, eight of the number being young men.

At the session of the Sunday school in the afternoon there were 420 persons present, after which Dr. Parker presided the Junior Endeavor society.

Don't Hurry to Night.
The last opportunity the people will have to witness the "Don't Hurry" spectacle at the Grand will be to-night. The weather last week was unfavorable for the exhibition and hundreds of people who wanted to enjoy the entertainment did not feel like leaving the elements. The spectacle is confessedly the best home entertainment ever given in this city, and should be seen by everybody. Go to-night.

A Truck.
Wabash passenger No. 45, due here at 6:15 this morning, did not arrive in the city until 11:30 o'clock. The delay was caused by a wreck on the M. & E. T. at Paris, Mo., about midnight. The wreck was caused by an open switch and the engine and two cars were derailed. No one was hurt.

Death at the Poor Farm.
Mrs. Mary J. Hutchinson died at the poor farm this (Monday) morning at 2 o'clock of pneumonia. The deceased was sent to the poor house about ten days ago from Decatur. She was 67 years of age and was first paralyzed about three weeks ago.

DURHAM'S BAD BREAK.

An Arcadia Preacher Gets Violent Language in His Pulpit.

Sunday evening, April 19th, in the pulpit at Arcadia, Rev. Durham, a Methodist divine, who formerly preached at Sullivan and has been heard in Decatur, worked himself up to a high pitch of frenzy over the anti-slavery issue in his town. He had the church full of people to listen to his address, in the course of which he took occasion to heap unjust personal abuse on the head of Judge M. P. Vail of Decatur. It appears that a certain Arcadia saloon-keeper had been indicted for selling liquor to Arcadia. There were 17 counts against him. When the case was disposed of in the circuit court at Tazewell, the state attorney stated that he had arranged with the defendant to plead guilty to five counts, and that the twelve other counts would be settled. In all such cases in this judicial circuit it is the custom and practice for the state's attorney to arrange for the settlement of liquor indictments. They know how the jury verdicts are good, and how money can be made. The presiding judge knows nothing about them, and cannot know until a trial is had. It is the practice in Douglas and other counties in the district for the judges to set on the judgment of the state's attorney and then reverse the decision. That was done in the Arcadia case, but it appears that Rev. Durham wanted a conviction on each of the 17 counts; and because his own county attorney was not to be satisfied with a fine on five counts, without the danger of losing all at a trial, the preacher made an unbecomingly assault upon Judge Vail, who, anybody can see is wrongfully accused of too great leniency toward the saloon-keeper. Rev. Durham when he learns more about court proceedings, and what comes was actually preached in the Arcadia house, with probably without the sanction of Rev. Durham, who has taken a wrong position, and that in disposing of the Arcadia liquor case he as a judge has simply followed the practice in all the courts by relying upon the judgment of the prosecuting attorney.

Fought After Church.
Anna Reche and Mattie White, two colored young ladies, had a pugilistic encounter last night after church, and today the case is being ventilated in Justice Shorb's court. Mattie claimed that Anna called her bad names and it was for that she choked, scratched and struck Anna. Mattie paid $5 and costs for that little exercise, and then swore out a warrant against Anna for disorderly conduct and actions unbecoming a lady. The trial will be held to-morrow.

Bloomington's New Postmaster.
Hon. John Eddy, the new Bloomington postmaster, still insists that he has power to remove the clocks connected with the office and appoint their successors. He thinks the civil service rules do not apply to anyone except the current. But he says if it turns out that the clocks are installed he will trump up no charges in order to secure their removal, as he assumes they are all honest and are performing their duties faithfully.

THE FLEET Afloat.

The Naval Rendezvous at Hampton Roads Broken Up.

THE VESSELS IN ROUTE TO NEW YORK

A Busy Day for Admiral Gherardi—Secretary Herbert's Generous Entertainments—The Last Day at the Roads—Laguard Vessels.

FORTY-EIGHT ships-of-war will sail for New York tomorrow. The fleet has been no rest for Admiral Gherardi for day. Signal flags have been running up and down from the yards of the Philadelphia; blue-coated messengers hurrying in plumping luncheon from ship to ship, and the typewriter in the admiral's office has been going at a rapid pace. There is no question but that Admiral Gherardi feels the responsibility which rests upon him as the commander-in-chief of the fleet. Several times today he has been upon the bridge of the Philadelphia, viewing with anxious eyes the gathering clouds. Everybody here is naturally hoping the weather in New York will be clear, but the seasoned eye of a man who knows all about the weather, shakes their heads dubiously today. The sea runs heavy and great waves are breaking against the sides of the vessels, and threatening with destruction the little launches in which the various naval attachés put off from the shore.

In more ways than one was the fact that this was the last day of the rendezvous emphasized. One of the most interesting incidents was the preparation for provisioning the ships for the cruise. The steamers from the large cities this morning were piled high with edible freight. Tons and tons of beef were brought from Baltimore and transferred to the ships' cutters, which were dancing on the waves at the wharf. Huge crates of canned goods and tins of meat were stacked up to the tops of the sides with food enough to stock a store. One pile of food contained, by actual count, 3,871 loaves, and there were several other mountains of baked goods nearly as large. American, English, German, Russian, French, Spanish, Italian and Dutch sailors hovered around the food or transferred it to a tablecloth confusion to their own boats. All this had to be done today, there will be no time for it to-morrow morning.

Equally interesting, although a somewhat different, was the regulation of the chronometers at noon today. Shortly before 12 o'clock a company of officers led through the long and narrow passage to the room in which the telegraphers were at work. Some of them had little mahogany boxes under their arms which they placed with more than ordinary care upon the small tables. A dozen instruments were clacked busily at 12 o'clock the operator touched a key board. Instantly the life of the boxes were raised and disclosed the glass faces of the chronometers. The officer stood ready with his hand to the "tick, tick," sounded the telegraph, slowly beating to the pulsation of the great clock in the observatory at Washington. An officer with a table was noting the movement of the "tick, tick," and carried the delicate mechanisms back to the vessels. Thousands of curious visitors made a circuit of the fleet at twenty-five cents apiece in excursion steamers. It was the last day of the rendezvous and therefore the last day for gazing the harvest of silver. The fact that it was Sunday night might have occurred to a man if he went out in the woods and reckoned up the days of the week, otherwise such a remembrance would hardly have impressed itself upon his mind.

Senators Butler, Gray and Gibson, of Maryland, and Representative Benton McMillin of Tennessee, arrived today. Arrangements have been made for these gentlemen to go ashore with the fleet to New York. They will be quartered on the Sag Francisco, along with representatives of two New York papers. Representative Outwater, of Ohio, will go on the Philadelphia. Invitations had also been extended to a number of other senators and representatives, but as they had not appeared up to this evening the commanders of the ships at once began to extend invitations to their friends. Nearly every ship will have a number of civilians and correspondents. The latter will represent the United Press and Washington, New York, Boston and Chicago papers. It was supposed some weeks ago that no one would sail with the fleet except four representatives of the press associations, but this halt, although suggested by Secretary Herbert, has been totally disregarded.

The voyage is likely to be made with considerable discomfort. The correspondents have been told that they will have to content themselves with mattresses under the wash-room table, although the friends of the commanding officers who have been invited to go will not suffer any inconvenience. If the weather continues to be rough there is sure to be a good deal of sickness among the landmen on board, but this does not seem to deter any one from making the trip.

Secretary Herbert has passed a quiet day. At the banquet on the Dolphin yesterday he had Admiral Hipkins of the English fleet, and in the course of the evening the admiral asked the secretary to attend church service on board the Dolphin this morning.

Mr. Herbert accepted, and this morning just before the church service was finished from the Dolphin he climbed into a boat which was decorated with a silver anchor and stars and was pulled over to the big English cruiser. The service was conducted by the English chaplain and lasted quite a while after the church pews had been hauled down from the three American flag-ships. Returning to the Dolphin the secretary entertained some friends informally at luncheon, and then he came ashore for the first time since he arrived. He had heard that quite a number of senators and congressmen were here and he wanted them to come over and dine with him on the Dolphin.

While the secretary was ashore, a correspondent had a splendid talk with him. Said the secretary in answer to a question: "It is even more grand than I anticipated." "Do you think this rendezvous will stimulate a pride in the United States navy?" "That is the best part of it," said the secretary. "Already we feel that with the beautiful ships which are anchored out here under our flag we have no reason to feel ashamed, but of course there is a great deal yet to be accomplished. I will regard it as the crowning point of my public life if by the time I leave my present office I shall have done as much for the building up of our navy as has been so magnificently accomplished by my predecessors."

Admiral Gherardi also came ashore this afternoon to gather up the last loose ends for the sailing to-morrow. All the officers have been ordered to remain on board to-night, so that they can be up bright and early in the morning. "The signal to get under way," said the admiral, "will be given promptly at 9 o'clock. We shall steam to New York at about eight knots an hour. There is no necessity for great haste."

ANOTHER STRIKE

Disenfranchised Carpenters Go Out.

Ignoring the Settlement of Two Weeks Ago—A Hard Blow to the Exposition Company—President Ogden's Reply.

CHICAGO, April 16.—Another minor tone is in store for the World's fair officials. Last week it was Old Boston; who brought "grief" to the ears of the White city. This week it is to be a strike of carpenters.

When the carpenters employed at Jackson park go to work to-morrow morning they will find the gates of the exposition grounds guarded by a corps of union delegates. These delegates have strict orders to allow no union carpenter working for the exposition company or for any other contractor who has not signed the agreement of the Carpenters' council to enter within the grounds. The scores of two weeks ago are to be repeated. Not only will the union carpenters strike at the World's fair grounds, but all over the city. By order of President J. B. Coggeswell all union carpenters working for contractors who have not signed the agreement must quit work. This order will therefore affect 4,000 men employed at the exposition. Fifteen hundred men were present, and the vote to strike was unanimous.

A strike at the World's fair grounds, even one of small proportions, will be a serious matter at this particular time when every moment is precious. Of the 5,000 carpenters now at work in Jackson park, it is estimated that 400 to 450 men will be affected by the present action. The carpenters are now working for the exposition company and those in the employ of less than half a dozen contractors. The great majority of contractors having completed their work, the number of men affected is comparatively small. It will be a blow to the exposition company, inasmuch as it will be impossible to secure men to take the strikers' places on short notice.

The present strike is due to the dissatisfaction of the carpenters with the outcome of the strike two weeks ago. At that time all the union men in the building trades organized the demand of the carpenters; but after being out one day, the officers of the building trades council reached a settlement with the World's fair managers without consulting the carpenters, and although the name of President Coggeswell, of the carpenters' union, was signed to the agreement, that gentleman was not present when the paper was signed. He now denies that he authorized the affixing of his signature to the document.

Hickey Believed to be the Murderer of Clayton. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 16.—The authorities at Little Rock are confident that Frank Hickey is innocent of the murder of John M. Clayton that he is no longer kept confined in a cell at the jail. He is an excellent penman, and the authorities are confident that he is not guilty of the crime. He has given his employment in his office in the preparation of the tax-books. Within the past two or three days Hickey has received numerous letters, showing that he was serving a term in the Dallas prison in Oregon at the time Clayton was assassinated. His attorneys will make an effort in a few days to obtain his release upon a writ of habeas corpus.

Remember the Memory of the Only Will. LONDON, April 16.—The anniversary of Shakespeare's birthday was celebrated yesterday at Stratford-on-Avon. The grammar school in which the exercises were held was decorated with bunting, flags and Shakespeare's portrait. The masters and pupils marched to Shakespeare's tomb in the afternoon and covered it with lilies. After all other ceremonies, the mayor of the town delivered a message. At the close the audience remained perfectly silent for ten minutes and then dispersed.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Senator Chandler Has Views and Expresses Them.

CLEVELAND FOR THE NATIONAL CREDIT.

By Carrier Pigeons From Fort Monroe to Washington—Arthur Day Appropriately Celebrated—On Their Way to New York.

Senator Chandler's Views on Gold and Tariff Smuggling.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Senator Chandler has some positive views on financial and other questions of the day. "I can vote the position I take," said the senator, "in a single proposition, and that is that the secretary of the treasury ought to use the $100,000,000 of reserve, if it becomes necessary, and not fight any bonds until he is obliged to. That large fund was made to be used; that is what it is there for, and it should be called upon before any other steps are taken. The law requires national banks to retain 10 per cent. of their earnings for a surplus to be used in an emergency, and why should not the government resort to the same policy? I am afraid that gold will soon go to a premium and the country be forced to a silver basis."

When asked what effect the financial situation would have upon the calling of an extra session, Mr. Chandler replied that that question could best be answered by the party now in power.

"The question of an extra session," he continued, "depends entirely upon the present administration; whether it is to be held and large in its contemplation of public affairs or small and inconspicuous; whether it shall inaugurate a policy of hauling down the flag, or whether it shall prove strong and courageous. If it is strong and has the courage for which some people give it credit, Mr. Cleveland will call an extra session and seek the repeal of the law of 1894. Whether congress will or will not follow the advice of the president in this matter, he can at least place the responsibility upon congress."

In my opinion, Mr. Cleveland will surely go to the limit of the law to go to a premium rather than call an extra session of congress.

"Financial problems are not the only ones we have to face, however. If the proposed programme of tariff amending is to be conducted, the people who have money invested in protected, and their allied industries will be exceedingly shy about investing their capital; times will, as a natural sequence, become hard, and American wages will fall. This will be the inevitable result of an assault upon the tariff. It looks to me as if the policy of Mr. Cleveland was to encourage foreign immigration, and especially that of a Jewish character. Certain recent acts of his surely point in this direction, and the result of such a policy can but work to the disadvantage of the laboring classes and the general manufacture of the people. Undesirable immigrants should be kept from our shores, and the late legislation was intended for that very purpose."

The President Will Stand Firm for the National Credit.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—To a representative of the United Press the president said last night:

"The indication of the public to accept newspaper reports concerning the intentions of those charged with the management of our national finances seems to justify my emphatic contradiction of the statement that the redemption of any kind of treasury notes, except in gold, has at any time been determined upon or contemplated by the secretary of the treasury or any other member of the present administration. The president and his cabinet are entirely harmonious in the determination to exercise every power conferred upon them to maintain the public credit, to keep the public faith, and to preserve the parity between gold and silver and between all financial obligations of the government. While the law of 1890, forcing the purchase of a fixed amount of silver every month, provides that the secretary of the treasury, in his discretion, may redeem in either gold or silver the treasury notes given in payment of silver purchases, yet the declaration of the policy of the government to maintain the parity between the two metals seems so clearly to regulate this discretion as to dictate their redemption in gold. Of course perplexities and difficulties have grown out of an unfortunate financial policy which we found in vogue, and embarrassments have arisen from ill-considered financial legislation confronting us at every turn, but with every cheerful evidence among the people, and a patriotic disposition to co-operate, threatened danger will be averted pending a legislative return to a better and sounder financial plan. The strong credit of the country, still unimpaired, and the good sense of our people, which has never failed in time of need, are at hand to save us from disaster."

By Carrier Pigeons From Fort Monroe to Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The president and Mrs. Cleveland yesterday received messages from the dispatch boat Dolphin at Fort Monroe, brought by carrier pigeons. The pigeons were liberated on the Dolphin shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning and reached the loft of the owner, Mr. R. B. Caverly, in this city, at 12:20 p. m., covering the distance of 185 miles in little more than five hours with the weather conditions unfavorable. Mr. Caverly hurried to the White House and delivered the messages to President Cleveland, who expressed his surprise at the fast time made.

OF GLASSBORO, N. J.
—A remedy for liver complaint was found by a lawyer in Gloucester, Mass. It was a turpentine plaster, applied over the stomach. Having worn it some time, he lighted a match to examine the plaster. The plaster took fire, and the man was burned to death.

AT CHANCE, RECENTLY, AN OLD FOGY had been carrying the company with stupid and unpleasant remarks about natural history. At length, in that peculiar tone of voice in which theological questions are uttered in the pulpit, the foggy said: "Has an oyster brain?" "Certainly," replied the host; "for an oyster never stops to think up."

IT ALWAYS, BEEN GENERALLY believed that the growth of the human body was very rapid during the first years of life, but a recent discovery has shown that the growth of the human body is very rapid during the first years of life, but a recent discovery has shown that the growth of the human body is very rapid during the first years of life.

THE WHOLE MIDDLE CLASS has been and is being the victim of a great many of these "miraculous" cures. They do not use them on their mothers or children, but have instead men called "miraculous" stationed in the streets, who call out five times each day for the people to be cured of their ailments. The cry is "There is no god but God, and Mohammed is his prophet."

A PRACTICAL JOKE was played by a fellow fellow in Rochester, Ore. He showed soap until he frothed at the mouth, then, with a carving knife, he rushed suddenly at a young lady in the street, as if about to kill her. Mr. Long, her escort, promptly knocked him down and sent him to the hospital. An officer appeared, and it is likely that the joker will be imprisoned for his silliness.

THE WATER SPIDER, which spends most of its time under water, carries a bubble of air for breathing on the under side of its body, and when this air is exhausted it comes to the surface for more. It is enabled to carry the air bubble because the water side of its body is covered with tiny hairs set so close together that the surface film of the water does not pass them, although the air does, and thus the air is imprisoned among the hairs.

DURING THE PAST FORTY YEARS the churches in the United States have grown in numbers at a much greater rate than the population. In 1850 there were 33,153 churches or buildings devoted to purposes of worship. In 1890 there were 142,354. The gain in forty years was 109,201, or 327 per cent. In the same period the population of the United States increased from 23,191,379 to 62,629,329. This shows a gain of 39,437,950, or 170 per cent.

ALL THE FUNGUS DISEASES OF PLANTS, such as mildew, scab, blight, rust, rot, etc., are contagious. The contagion is carried from year to year in the diseased parts, be it seed, fruit or branch. The presence of any of these diseased material in the orchard or vineyard increases the chances of the appearance and spread of the disease another year. Nothing is so destructive to the fungus spores as fire, and all affected plants, or parts of plants, should be cut out and burned.

A TENOR IN A BROOKLYN CHURCH often endeavored to cause fun in the choir by making drill faces at the other singers. There was one member of the congregation who considered his levity idiotic. In the collection basket he dropped a paper containing these words: "To the Pastor:—The service would be much more interesting if you could persuade your tenor to act more like a man, and less like a monkey." The pastor handed the slip to the tenor, and since then, during service, his face has been as grave as that of a high-priced sexton.

BY A LAW OF RICHARD II. OF ENGLAND (1388), blind-bellied beggars were punished and compelled to labor, and provision was made for the helpless. By an act of Henry VIII. (1530) beggars were given to impotent persons to beg within fixed limits, but unlicensed beggars were whipped and all persons giving alms to such forfeited ten times the amount given. In the reign of Elizabeth beggars above the age of fourteen were previously whipped, burned through the ear with a hot iron, and for the third offense were put to death. This regulation was repealed in 1598.

NEARLY THREE-FOURTHS OF ALL THE cases of cholera in southern Russia or in the region between the Caspian sea and the Black, have proved fatal. In St. Petersburg, where better sanitary conditions exist, over half the cases have proved fatal. In Hamburg the ratio of deaths in cholera cases has been nearly one-half, while in northern Germany, in Belgium, and in France, it has been about one-third. About eighty per cent. of the cases in Persia are thought to have proved fatal. A quarter of a million Persians are supposed to have perished by the Asiatic cholera this year.

ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING exhibitions in connection with the recent Orientalist congress in London is a collection of tools used by workmen in building the pyramids of Egypt. They were gathered and are exhibited by the illustrations. Egyptologists, Mr. Finders Petrie. These utensils indicate that ancient workmen had an astonishing acquaintance with many tools which we have been accustomed to consider essentially modern. Among the exhibits are solid and tubular corundum-tipped drills and straight and circular saws and chisels described as "not a bit inferior to those now used."

A WRITER IN THE NAUTICAL MAGAZINE tells a story of how a Yankee skipper contrived to free his ship from rats. While he lay in port he discovered that one of the British ships then in the harbor had among her cargo a great quantity of cheese. He thereupon found an excuse for hauling over to her and mooring his own vessel alongside. The next step was to procure a plank, smear it well with an odoriferous preparation of red herrings, and place it so as to lead through one of the ports on board the Englishman. The immediate result was a wholesale emigration of the rats from the American ship's hold to the cheese-laden vessel alongside.
